

Injuria quanta a plura sed admiffa est l. 35. ff. de injur. Parents killing their Children but the thought forth in the fact or fact Month which probably contains l. 20. and l. 21. is to the ordinary pair of death and noble that of paricide Carpozov Crim. part 1. quest. 11 n. 376. fogg. Such as were only Confession or pny to the Murder of a son without Revealing or offering to hinder the same. How it was in their power to do it are not liable to the pain of death, but only to a civil ordinary punishment, if they had no hand in the Murder.
 Prosp. Gravido de homicidio qui. 120 n. 154. Carpozov. ibid. n. 48.
 Et fogg. Under the Denomination of Parent and Child are for-melly understood all Natural Ascendants and Descendants but not those who are such by affinity Carpozov. Crim. part 1. q.
 n. 42. Et fogg. Junct. n. 62. The parent (and of the Person in law the Tutor Great On in l. 6. § 9 cap. 8 n. 6.) would have done that which his Opposer or Opposer's effects of that Natural hatred was for Restraining the force of effects of that Natural hatred which the former bore to the latter. But yet the Criminal Judge may put some Murder of ignominy upon offenders again that legal tie at their Execution Carpozov. ibid. n. 47. In the Opinion of Many good lawyers, a man putting his wife to death or a woman her husband, is guilty of paricide, l. 9.
 l. 10. Et de heri qui parent. vol. lib. 2. de. Damno. Crim. cap. 8.
 n. 1. Berlich. part 4. Conclud. 7 n. 43. Carpozov. Crim. part 1.
 qui. 12 n. 10. Et fogg. Seeing Conjugal affection is a passion both that which is a son to and a father, and man and wife are reckoned one flesh Gen. 2. 23. 24. Matthe. 10. 5. By the law of England a wife who Murder her husband is guilty of petty treason 25 Hen. 3. l. 5. cap. 2. and had judgement to be drawn upon a hurdle and burnt.

Assassination is a treacherous Murder committed by one who was hired to do it. by another for Money or any other Reward Carpozov. Crim. part 1. qui. 19 n. 35. 48. 6.
 March 1675. Before of Rando. from the last Great Debate or of small Value given or promised, Carpozov. ibid. n. 90.
 248. fogg. This Crime is so called from the assassin a barbarous word about Thynia. Emil. de Rob. Pol.
 Granul. l. 5. of the Mohemitan perses a son, who

Under the Band of a King bloods Mordred. Arcaida, had it to be a Glorious God Morricent. He then to die for Destroying 80. is his hand putting on the Wizard of the Ministry of Justice. Effects then with the purpose in a Glorious kind. Planned by command of their Captain. M. David Collet, that chief assassin word a specific sort of M. Hunt and dwelling in. l. 10. 10. 10. 10.
 Arcaida in Syria being about 10000 in number. They were ready to be every pains whom the old man of the Mountain should appoint them, or lay upon any other dangerous attempt. He lay upon M. Kojin. n. 1. of the Hill of Engle Book 7. pag. 129. The old man of the Mountain was the title they gave the head or chief Master of a sort of people. So called about Antioch in the plain, as by some such name. The old man of the Mountain kept advising him. He provided a set of people devoted to his will, whom he distributed into all parts of the world upon the like conditions. Hence the speech in the him the price of the life of a friend, or perhaps the word assassin is derived from the Name of Assassins. l. 2. qui. ibid. pag. 123. The practice of assassination gives occasion to the famous Journal of Pope Innocent 9. cap. 1. de Crim. in l. 1. and l. 2. and after ward to be copied after among the and themselves especially in Italy. That it is so much a word at that time, that Men to satiate their revenge or other base ends are found to be frequently bound out and set on sufficient with Rewards and promises to cut off such as they reckon to be their Enemies or bear some grudge at. Assassins is a Name given by the Doctors both to him who prompts one with Money or Rewards to kill another, and to him who did it upon so base a Motive. Matthe. 10.
 Crim. l. 1. de fear. cap. 1. n. 3. Carpozov. Crim. part 1. qui.
 19 n. 5. But one who hires another to kill a third person, is not reckoned an assassin in our laws, Matthe. 2. Crim. part 1. l. 11. 523. infra. We find no mention of the word assassin in the civil law. But, by that law, he who assaults another or injures or aims to ambulate with a Design to kill him is not punishable in the same manner as if the Doctor's Design had been accomplished which is not Relevant to infer that Crimes of Assassination that