

Whipped ad Plagiat Bode 3 Jult 6i or from May 10 oblige and Groves for that to sell Jades and withdraw a people by the direct flight. It is termed in England Kidnapping. He was Accounted a Man stealer who not only by force or by fraud beried away a freeman and sold him for a slave or heyned his but he who Inveigled away another mans servant and, or Ded him to Run away or Bonceded such a fugitive; Seminol lib. 7 Leg. Aeth. Epit. 5 p. 533. Wills its Egyptian and a the Stealers of Children have been punished with Death kenia Crim. part

In Jur George Wilsons opinion Eldred) such as force men away to be sold for slaves, and those who run away with Children in order to marry them, which Under the Age that Law Requires to be separated from to Confess 14 Years in Ma. l. c. 12 in females available to the same punishment. Vide 20 November 1616 for Patrick Rivers and others 23 July 1628 James Foundry. Che stealing of or Children in England is punished by fine, Pillory & C.
Wood Instit. of the Imperial or Civil law pag. 320. Plag is also Plagium literaturem Nitter thefts a practice of Pursuing other peoples Books, and putting them off a Mans own One (Chomasius de plagio literature) lays down the laws and Measures of the Right which Authors have to one anothers Commodities. from which offences M Chambers in his Universal Dictionary Verb. Plagiarum) will has Dictionary writers Exempted: because they do not up on their own bottom nor what the Reader at their own Cost; but avoid by and in the open fair takes from others may be for their purpose where ever they find it, and no other ways than a the Book does for the published In Germany the stealing a thing above five Crowns in Carp. Crim. part 2 qu. 77 n. 7. qu. 78 n. 13. And in some other Countries theft of a thing of great Value into Mattheus Crim. lib. 4 q. 1 cap. 3 n. 4 is punished with death. The Several Doctors of the Civil law reckon a small thing Stolen from a poor Man as a Big to be a Great theft

Monacho de Arbitrio Jus. qu. 1 lib. 2 Cont. 7 n. 1142. Bo part 4 Corol. 43 n. 44. Which seems agreeable to the David

David Lents 2 Jan 12. 5. 6. In England ^{Grand} larceny or the stealing of goods above the value of 12 pence ^{is punished} with death, unless the offender be saved by the Benefit of Clergy, which is not Indulged to the Stealer of a Horse, Mare or Col ding 283 Edw. 6. cap. 33 or to the carrier away of any thing Privily or feloniously from the person of another, is a Felony probat or out purp & Eliz. cap. 4. Nor to the felonious broacher of any ^{probat} house or out house there to be long in takes out of a goods to the value of five ^{shillings} 39 Eliz.
cap. 15 or to the Stealer of Money or goods to the value of 40 shillings, out of such house, tho it be not actually broken, Except the offender be an Appren his under the age of 15 stealing in that sort from his Master 12 St. cap. 7. Nor to the Stealer of goods, Wares or Merchandise to the value of five shillings, in any shop ware house, or each house or stable tho not broken open to 8 ii W. 3 cap. 23 51. Persons guilty of petty Larceny or the stealing of goods to the value of 12 pence or ^{under} up to four feet goods and of a value to be ^{under} up to the value of Corrocher But now persons convicted of Grand Larceny who have the Benefit of Clergy or convicted of Petty Larceny, are to be transported to any of the Kings plantations in America for seven Years; and a thief or felon not within the Benefit of Clergy, may be transported if the Kings Majesty of Money to them on Condonation of transportation be referred to the Court by one of the principal Justices of State 4 G. 1 cap. 11 51. Plunders of Letters Comf does more the Measures of the thief and the Circumstances of the fact than the quantity and Value of the theft Wilson's Crim. part 1 q. 19 515 Jur. However Pick and petty theft as of bond, Bond drawn out of stacks, and other ^{things} Arbitrarily 14 December 1698 John Bailles and Wills saw Bailles Jur and Plunder, as by Jur and Benefit 5 January 1664 Thomson 8 Arbitr 21 June 1680 Glavin Mattheus 7 fol. 600
James